Showcasing wines & produce from Rutherglen & the King Valley

RYDGES LAKESIDE CANBERRA
SUNDAY 3 JULY 2011

KING VALLEY

Venture to the King Valley in Victoria's High Country and you could be forgiven for thinking you'd been transported to the picturesque hills of the Italian Alps, the cool hillsides of Calabria or the villages of Sicily. Here the vineyards, perched on the fertile slopes that rise above the King River, are home to great wines and their makers. First, second and third generation families continue a tradition, today treating the Australian palate with their Mediterranean-inspired wines. Wines such as Prosecco, Nebbiolo, Sangiovese, Pinot Grigio, Dolcetto, Arneis & Barbera.

RUTHERGLEN

Winemaking has been at the heart of the region since the 1850s; today Rutherglen is one of Australia's most celebrated wine regions. Generations later, the families who founded Rutherglen are still making wine, joined by entrepreneurial newcomers bringing fresh ideas to build on the region's history. Rutherglen offers a rich diversity of styles – red and white table wines, sparkling wines and its internationally acclaimed fortified wines, all produced with a unique regional character.
